Featured Books for January

Plum Lucky

by Janet Evanovich

Stephanie Plum has a way of attracting danger, lunatics, oddballs, bad luck and mystery men. No one is more mysterious than the unmentionable Diesel. He's back and hot on the trail of a little man in green pants who's lost a giant bag of money. Problem is, the money isn't exactly lost. Stephanie's Grandma Mazur has found it, and like any good Jersey senior citizen, she's hightailed it in a Winnebago to Atlantic City and hit the slots. With Lula and Connie in tow, Stephanie attempts to bring Grandma home, but the luck of the Irish is rubbing off on everyone: Lula's found a job modeling plus-size lingerie. Connie's found a guy. Diesel's found Stephanie. And Stephanie has found herself in over her head with the caper. Plum Lucky is an all-you-can-eat buffet of thrills, chills, shrimp cocktail, plus-size underwear, and scorching hot men.

The Appeal

by John Grisham

After forty-two hours of deliberations that followed seventy-one days of trial that included 530 hours of testimony from four dozen witnesses, and after a lifetime of sitting silently as the lawyers haggled and the judge lectured and the spectators watched like hawks for telltale signs, the jury was ready. Locked away in the jury room, ten of them proudly signed their names to the verdict while the other two pouted in their corners, detached and miserable in their dissension. There were hugs and smiles and relief because they had survived this and could now march proudly back into the arena with a decision they had rescued through sheer determination and compromise. Their ordeal was over; their civic duty complete. They had served above and beyond. They were ready. The Appeal is a powerful, timely, and shocking story of political and legal intrigue, a story that will leave readers unable to think about our electoral process or judicial system in quite the same way ever again.

Duma Key

By Stephen King

Six months after a crane crushes his pickup truck and his body self-made millionaire Edgar Freemante launches into a new life. His wife asked for a divorce after he stabbed her with a plastic knife and tried to strangle her one-handed (he lost his arm and for a time his rational brain in the accident). He divides his wealth into four equal parts for his wife, his two daughters, himself and leaves Minnesota for Duma Key, a stunningly beautiful, eerily remote stretch of the Florida coast where he has rented a house. All of the land on Duma Key, and the few houses, are owned by Elizabeth Eastlake, an octogenarian whose tragic and mysterious past unfolds perilously. When Edgar begins to paint, his formidable talent seems to come from someplace outside him, and the paintings, many of them, have a power that cannot be controlled. Soon the ghosts of Elizabeth's childhood return, and the damage of which they are capable is truly terrifying. Like Lisey's Story, this is a novel about the tenacity of love and the perils of creativity. Its supernatural elements will have King fans reeling.

Events

Steven Gennette and the PC Rhythm Singers once again performed at the library and brought to fruition an amazing variety of Christmas musical delights. The program progressed from sacred to popular, ending with the playful Baby It's Cold Outside. Several choir members had moments to shine with solos. Thursday's intimate concert which drew an audience of 30 was just beautiful! A reception followed the concert honoring the choir and their festive music.

The library held its annual Christmas Story Time and Puppet Show on December 20 at 10:00am and 6:00pm. At the 10:00 showing, Mrs. Clause was reading, visiting, and taking pictures with the children. The 6:00 showing had a puppet show, Christmas caroling with the group Stillwaters, and the children had a chance to visit and take pictures with Santa. We hope this was a treasured opportunity to make memories and carry on the special tradition of visiting with Santa.

The library will be closed Jan. 1 for New Year's Day and Jan. 21 for Martin Luther King Day.

It's YOUR Library...

We asked library Patron Nancy Santoni, what she has to say about her library...

When I think about our library here in Fort Stockton, I think of the little engine that could. As a single mother and working full time I take college courses through the internet. From electrical engineering to criminal justice, there has yet been a time when I could not find resource material which I have needed for a class. The environment and atmosphere, while it is professional, it is well situated for our community. The staff members are friendly and very helpful. Throughout the various holidays of the year, I have seen the library welcome each with events and decorations. What a nice surprise to see Santa Clause made a visit. The modern library is no longer about books, magazines, or newspapers. Our library has met that challenge. There are ten computers available and connected to the internet. This library is doing its best to cut down on that internet divide, just ask the kids. Even if you are new to the computer world they have software to teach you. You want to learn how to play the piano, you guessed it. Come on down to the library, there is a piano you can learn on. As I look forward to the New Year I also look forward to the numerous shows and community events which will be held here at our local library. Happy New Year everyone!
